COMMISSION COMMENTS:

A. Planning Commission Remarks:

Secretary Fort thanked Director AbuBakar for the Workshops provided to gather additional information, dialogue and discussion regarding various projects. It is an opportunity to get additional insight that the developers and builders bring; developers are experts at what they do and we recognize that and appreciate that. She stated that workshops allow the Planning Commission to make informed decisions.

Commissioner Vasquez looking at the General Plan and hoping it's just ahead of us and somewhat behind us. She is really looking at some of the projects coming to Fontana and all of the things that are planned to be built in the center and the plans with good intentions and all the good planning over the time taken for the center, the south and the north end of Fontana taking into consideration that it is a General Plan - an intent for the best ideas for the city.

Commissioner Vasquez spoke on the comments made earlier regarding workshops and the Planning Commission's intent to keep Fontana as safe as it can with anything that they have to offer with comments; looking out for gated communities for keeping children inside gates when there is a pool across the street that they might be enticed to go to. Those are all the things that sometimes get misconstrued by someone else's view because they are possibly stuck on price.

Commissioner Vasquez spoke on looking at the project, the plan, and the safety to see if it is a good solution to something that is possible and not just that it is in the north end and someone could afford it.

Commissioner Vasquez wanted to set the record straight that the Planning Commission is always looking out for the best for Fontana and they all live here.
